COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is an introduction to the study of religions in its diverse manifestations. In other words, what is religion, how and why is it studied. We shall examine the different manifestations and practices of religion, focusing on religious experiences. Although no particular tradition will be treated at length, materials from several religions will be chosen to exemplify thematic topics in the experience of the Sacred. Our approach to the phenomenon of religion will be conceptual; some of the topics to be explored include theodicy, myth, sacred ritual, scripture, and ethics. In order to facilitate critical thinking and to stimulate active learning, this course will supplement lectures with small-group exercises, class discussions, the use of multimedia and fieldwork in an unfamiliar religious tradition. The successful completion of this course (grade of ‘C’ or better) fulfills one of the two Gordon Rule courses in the University Core Curriculum’s ‘Humanities with Writing’ section.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

- This course will provide students with tools for analyzing and interpreting religious traditions in contemporary societies, and will provide critical thinking skills for dealing with multi-religions in a given context.
This course will also provide the students with the "raw materials" for the study of religion by introducing students to the beliefs, doctrines, rituals, symbols, (select) scriptures, and experiences (through group presentations and discussions).

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Students will be able to analyze topics in the field of religious studies from multiple perspectives.
- Students will be able to explain the history and development of the belief systems and practices of various religious communities.
- Students will be able to apply critical thinking to important topics in the field of religious studies.
- Students will be able to appreciate the need and willingness to think creatively about religious issues in the contemporary world.
- Students will be able to evaluate their own and others’ religious views as they relate to understanding other religious traditions.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

The course will be assessed by means of the following elements:

[1] Site Visit Essay (Assignment 1) 20% The student must attend a religious service/ceremony not within his or her own religious tradition and write up a critical essay that describes and analyzes the experience at the site. (Be specific and detailed in your discussion). Essay requirements: 5-6 pages double-spaced, 12-point font (such as Times or Garamond), minimum of three (3) academic sources cited in the essay body and referenced in a ‘Works Cited’ page. Additional information, including a suggested list of potential religious sites to attend, can be found below. Both the Site Visit Essay and Midterm Essay (see below) will be submitted via www.turnitin.com. Instructions, will be provided in class.
[2] Mid Term Exams (Exams 1) 20% - There will be a Midterm exam which is comprised of an analysis of an article. (2-3 pages double spaced). Details will be provided in class.

[3] Quizzes (20%) – Nearly every biweekly, class session will end with a short 10-question quiz. This ensures that students are doing the required readings. Absenteeism will negatively affect a student’s grades, as these quizzes may not be made up without prior consent and approval. This time restricted, in-class quizzes will be given on each topic discussed within the two weeks, starting the first week. You will have two chances and 10 minutes per each chance to take the quiz on Moodle.

[4]. (Final Exams) 20% – Multiple choice questions 10 questions and 10 written questions, Twenty (20) questions in all. Questions will be based on selected topics discussed in class for the semester.

(5) Attendance and Participation in reading discussions (10%) - There will be presentations on each week’s readings (starting the 2nd week). Each student will present their findings on assigned readings and lead discussions in class. Details will be provided in class. Evaluation will be based on Content, Style and Research and how actively the group is able to engage the class in discussion. This is 10% of the overall grade.

Note: Regular class attendance and participation in class discussions in all sessions is an important requirement in this class. No opinion is wrong. Feel free to contribute your ideas. If you have to be absent for any special reason, give prior notice to instructor and with documentation. Absenting yourself for more than once (one time) in class without documentation will affect your attendance evaluation.

Failure to complete any of these requirements will result in an F grade in the course. Make-ups will only be allowed with prior approval of the instructor and/or with appropriate documentation.

FORMAT FOR ESSAYS

Turnitin.com
The essays will be turned in to Turnitin.com. Information on this will be given in class. Keep electronic and paper copies of all written work. For your own protection, keep a copy of your turnitin.com electronic receipt (a confirmation of assignment submission) until you have received your final grade for the course.

You will need to do research Essays: Your textbook and required readings will not have enough information about the topic. You will need to consult a minimum of three outside sources and one must be a book reference. You will also need notes in your paper, and a Bibliography/Works Cited page. You may use any recognized style manual, but you must use it consistently. The papers should be at least 3-4 pages long, and no more than 5 pages. Do not use Wikipedia as an internet source. You may use internet sources, but use only academic sources from the internet. (Academic sources list individual authors, name their sources, and have institutional affiliations.) Points will be deducted for infractions of these rules.

When reading your essays, I will be looking at three different elements: Content (including Grammar), Style, and Research. You will receive a grade in each of these areas, and these grades will then be averaged together for your final essay grade. You can get help from the Center for Academic Success/Writing Center at Green Library room 120.

Research: refers to the information in your paper. Is it correct? Is it detailed? Do you demonstrate basic knowledge of the religious tradition from which the concept is taken? Is this knowledge evident in your description? You must use at least three academic sources in your paper. One of them must be a book reference.

Style refers to how that information is presented. This includes the way the information is organized and language skills such as spelling, grammar, and proper sentence structure. Argument: refers to the quality of your analysis, how well you support your argument. For more detailed instructions, please see the "Essay" page under Course Content.

COURSE POLICIES

Late Papers

Late papers will be downgraded one letter grade for each day late.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism will not be tolerated. Plagiarism, or attempting to pass off another's work as your own, falls into three different categories:

1. A written work that is entirely stolen from another source;
2. Using quotations from another source without properly citing them; and
3. Paraphrasing from another source without proper citations.

Students are expected to understand the definition of plagiarism. See the University's Code of Academic Integrity at http://www.fiu.edu/~oabp/misconductweb/2codeofacainteg.htm if you need further clarification. Offenders will receive a grade of F for the plagiarized assignment, and possibly the course.
