COURSE DESCRIPTION

This online course investigates healing through mediumship, channeling, PSI (paranormal psychological phenomena), shamans, animals and plants and offers a unique experience through alternative global practices that are studied through the use of texts, electronic readings, video streaming, art and resources information. In addition, the skeptic viewpoint that questions the validity of such healing and PSI experiences is included. An overview of accepted global alternatives in health and religious practices of categories that were considered taboo in Western medicine for many years, are currently being investigated and implemented by institutions of higher learning, universities and research laboratories in the US and worldwide. "Healers and Mediums" (through religious and cultural practices) treat diseases, maladies, and physical-emotional-spiritual problems encountered by human beings, many practices have been used for hundreds or thousands of years, and lie outside the normative acceptance of Western science, technology and medical practices.

COURSE OVERVIEW

The texts include a first-hand account of healing and paranormal phenomena written by Miamian Philip Smith, Walking Through Walls, A Memoir. Shamans, possibly the oldest of known healers on Earth in religious and cultural communities, and many of their practices are presented in Piers Vitebsky's Shamanism and another memoir, Of Water and the Spirit: Ritual, Magic, and Initiation in the Life of an African Shaman by Malidoma Patrice Somé. The Believing Brain by Michael Shermer presents the skeptic viewpoint regarding many of the healing methods and PSI material for the course. DVD’s/videos and electronic readings enhance the texts. PPT’s are presented in each module.

Electronic readings include excerpts about animals as healers (from Susan McElroy and Jeffrey Masson), nature and Earth-based religions that use alternative healing methodologies, ethnobotany, American tribal peoples use of plants, various methods like vision quest or the ancient Chinese practice of acupuncture and acupressure, herbal remedies, and Spiritualism in the US.

Students use texts, electronically posted (online) readings, videos, art, music, resources and web links to pertinent sites that enhance the course.

COURSE OBJECTIVES

The course exposes the students to an overview of healing types from some global religious practices and rituals that usually occur outside the mainstream medical normative standards in the US and Europe. The epistemology takes form through the use of textbooks, media viewing, live discussion exercises, explanations and exams. Upon successful completion of this course, the student should

1. Define the “healer/s,” “medium/s,” and “shaman/s” and other important terms associated with the course from the glossaries provided, particularly PSI (paranormal psychological phenomena)
2. Describe methods used by healers, channelers/mediums and shamans
3. Understand trends and systems—from past to present—of diverse cultures in healing methods
4. Recognize healing rituals from diverse cultures worldwide
5. Define skepticism and the skeptic viewpoint that differs in the acceptance of alternative healing methods globally
6. Display research abilities that comply with written requirements for the course

GLOBAL LEARNING COURSE OBJECTIVES

This course complies with the global learning initiatives at FIU: Global Learning Outcomes: Global Awareness- Students will demonstrate knowledge of the interrelated global dynamics (social-cultural, political, economic and other values) in diverse cultural contexts, presented through the use of texts and global cultural systems (historically) that exist to healing humanity. Global Perspective- Students will be able to analyze the multiple global forces that shape their understanding of a deeper and broader sense of healing on Earth- economically, politically, sociologically, technologically and/or, and inter-culturally. Global Engagement- Students will be able to develop solutions to local, global, international, and/or intercultural problems and be able to articulate the causes and contributions to these problems through the paradigm of aesthetics, values and authority. Appropriate assignments are designated A (Global Awareness), B (Global Perspective), and C (Global Engagement), respectively on the schedule. The global learning objectives are incorporated into the weekly course schedule and are listed as A, B, and/or C in the assignments of the course schedule. The diversity (locale of students’ origins if known and with permission from the students)) within the course will be anonymously used in the Global Initiatives. For example, to demonstrate the diversity of 30 students: 10- North America, 8- Latin/South America including the Caribbean, 3- Africa, 5 European, 4- Asia. Students will participate in a pre-course survey at the onset of the class followed by a post-course solution survey.

Upon successful completion of this course for the Global Learning Initiatives through readings, media presentations, active learning and exam exercises, the student should:

1. Define the terms “healers” and “mediums,” and describe alternative methods used by healers, mediums and shamans globally (A, B)
2. Distinguish the global perspectives that have shaped the trends and systems of diverse cultures in healing methods from the past and through current concepts (A, B)
3. Recognize patterns of evolutionary change from rituals and practices that may reshape the future while preserving the traditions of aesthetics and cultural values of the past (A, B)
4. Demonstrate knowledge of the cultural and cross-cultural dynamics involved in these alternative methods of healing (A, B, C)
5. Define skepticism and the terminology or glossary terms that accompany the skeptic viewpoints. (A, B)
6. Students will gain an appreciation for the diversity of life on Earth as well as an acceptance of various ways used to heal the maladies of the body from a global viewpoint (A, B)
7. Fulfill research requirements (PPT, media or paper presentation) that involve active contact with global forms of healing as methodologies (C).
8. Relate the above objectives in problem solving for healing methodologies from the “pre-course survey” through the “post-solution” survey.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

POLICIES

Please review the policies page as it contains essential information regarding guidelines relevant to all courses at FIU and additional information on the standards for acceptable netiquette important for online courses.

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS & SKILLS One of the greatest barriers to taking an online course is a lack of basic computer literacy. By computer literacy we mean being able to manage and organize computer files efficiently, and learning to use your computer's operating system and software quickly and easily. Keep in mind that this is not a computer literacy course; but students enrolled in online courses are expected to have moderate proficiency using a computer. Please go to the “What’s Required” page for more information. (List the accessibility information)

EXPECTATIONS OF THIS COURSE

This is an online course, meaning that the course work will be conducted online. Expectations for performance in an online course are the same as for a traditional course; in fact, online courses require a degree of self-motivation, self-discipline, and technology skills that can make them more demanding for some students.

Electronic information: DVD’s. PDF’s. PPT’s and glossaries are listed on the weekly syllabus below and in folders on the homepage. These complement the required readings and topics for each section: 1) Introduction, 2) PSI and Healing Through Mediums, 3) Shamans, 4) Skeptics

Students are expected to:

- Review the how to get started information located in the course content
- Introduce yourself to the class during the first week by posting a self introduction in the appropriate discussion forum
- Take the practice quiz to ensure that your computer is compatible with Blackboard
- Interact online with instructor/s and peers
- Review and follow the course calendar
• Return an electronically signed form in Week 1 that you have reviewed the folders in the course content, syllabus, and course schedule and your computer is compatibility for submitting material online. All course assignments and assessments must be submitted through the course itself to receive credit for completion.
• Participate in the pre-course survey and the post solutions at the close of the course for those who wish to use the course as part of their global learning initiative.
• Review the 24-hour clock that is used in this course, rather than the AM/PM, 12-hour time listing. Required work: discussions-quizzes-exams-assignments are due at 12:00, that is 12 PM noon, not midnight.

COURSE DETAIL

COURSE COMMUNICATION

Communication in this course will take place via messages. An early warning system exists that will send a message directly to you if you miss an assignment, assessment or discussion; a zero is assigned for the missed work. No make-ups will be accepted unless discussed in advance of the due date and verified by the professor.

The message feature is a private, internal Blackboard only communication system. Users must log on to the blackboard system to send/receive/read messages. There are no notifications in Blackboard to inform users when a new message has been received; therefore, it is recommended that students check their messages routinely to ensure up-to-date communication.

This is the best method to communicate with your instructor privately.

DISCUSSION FORUMS

There are 8 discussions posted for grading and two live chats. Each student will post her/his comments for the topic listed and then respond to at least four other students' postings. Discussions and chats are graded according to content of the original post and responses on a 10-point scale; 10 points are awarded for the discussion and responses; deductions are awarded according to the quality of the posted information responses. [Review the Discussion Rubric below]

Keep in mind that forum discussions are public, and care should be taken when determining what to post.

Students are also required to know the expectations or "netiquette" that pertains to the discussion board. Students who abuse this forum by making harassing, inappropriate or abusive statements will be removed and receive a zero (0). Remember, your participation is key to connecting with other students. Further, often it is the deciding factor between receiving a higher or lower grade at the end of the term.

Discussion Rubric is based on the California State University at Hayward: Assessing Effectiveness of Student Participation in Online Discussions and altered accordingly to fit this course.

QUIZZES

Each quiz is open for a 4-day period, (one attempt) from 08:00 of the first day until 12:00 on the 4th day. (US Eastern Standard Time or Daylight Savings Time). Each student has one attempt at each quiz. Once you open the quiz, you will have the allotted time to save each response and submit all your answers. (Remember not to touch the computer Back button within Blackboard - use arrows to scroll backward.) Please study all the relevant course material for each week. You will need to complete the quizzes and exams by yourself. Any interaction of any form with others will constitute cheating, and may have serious repercussions.

In order to mitigate any issues with your computer and online assessments, it is very important that you take the "Practice Quiz" from each computer you will be using to take your graded quizzes and exams. It is your responsibility to make sure your computer meets the minimum hardware requirements.

EXAMS

Exams are intended to assess your comprehension, retention, and knowledge of the materials covered in electronic postings, videos and required texts. The midterm exam is open for a 5-day period, (one attempt) from 08:00 of the first day until 12:00 on the 5th day.

MAKE UP POLICY

No make-up assignments, quizzes or exams are accepted. All assigned material and due dates are indicated in the syllabus and a zero (0) grade will be assessed for any late or missed coursework. If some unforeseen emergency arises that prevents you from taking an exam or handing in an assignment, documentation must be provided (i.e., a summons for jury duty, letter on Physicians letterhead stating explicitly why student could not hand in assignment/take exam, etc). This documentation will be verified by contacting the appropriate individuals. Once verified a decision to proceed will be made by the Professor.

ADOBE CONNECT PRO MEETING

The Adobe Connect Pro Meeting is an online meeting room in which you can interact with your Professor and fellow students by sharing your computer, screens or files, chat, broadcast live audio and take part in other interactive online activities.

Requirements for using Adobe Connect Pro Meeting:

- Disable any window pop-up blocker.
- Adobe Flash Player is required to successfully run your Connect Pro meeting. You can test your computer to make sure that you are set up with all of the tools you will need to participate in the meeting.
- Use of a combination headset and microphone with USB connection is recommended to ensure quality sound and reduce technical difficulties.
