

Shi'i Islam Theology & Political Thought

S. Sadegh Haghghat¹

Course Number: RLG 5937 U04 Special Topics

Spring 2017, Religious Department, FIU

Time: Tuesday, 9:30- 12:30

Course Description

This course for the graduate covers the sources, the fundamentals and a short history of Shi'i Islam as a mainstream. Special attention will be given to the different approaches in Shi'i thought, such as traditionalism, modernism and political Islam.

Prerequisites: None.

¹ . Seyed Sadegh Haghghat graduated in political thought from TM University in Tehran, and studied at the Islamic Seminaries between 1981 and 2004. His M.A. thesis on "Transnational Responsibilities of the Islamic State", and his Ph.D. dissertation on "Distribution of Power in Shi'ite Political Thought" are focused on Shi'ite jurisprudence. His research interests embrace Islamic political thought, methodology of political science, Iranian Revolution and political Islam. He has published 20 books, some of which have been translated into Arabic. In Six Theories about the Islamic Revolution's Victory, he has put forward a new theory about the Iranian Revolution. He has participated in several international academic conferences. His new book, Methodology of Political Science, deals with methodological and interdisciplinary issues. Currently he is a full professor at the Department of Political Science at Mofid University in Qom and a courtesy lecturer in FIU. His articles and most full texts of his books and articles could be accessed at: <http://www.s-haghghat.ir>
