Course Orientation:

Description: This hybrid, “flipped-classroom” course is a survey of historical, ethical, and theological issues relating to the Holocaust, the systematic destruction of Jews and Jewish life by the Nazi regime during World War II. A specific focus of the course is on relations between Jews and Christians before, during, and after the Nazi era. This is not a class on the history of the Holocaust itself, though a basic familiarity with the facts of the Nazi assault on Jewry will be necessary. Students without such a background may wish to read any one of a number of works on Holocaust history on their own to supplement their knowledge (extra credit may be available). This class is also infused with material from the Wolfsonian-FIU collection, which will provide critical visual and material cultural background to and context for the rise of Nazism. The subject of the course is engaging, disturbing, and taxing: sensitivity and thoughtfulness are essential throughout! Since this is a flipped-classroom format course, much of the coursework will be done outside of the lecture hall at the student’s own pace on a week-to-week basis (the week runs Monday-Sunday): we will meet once a week on Tuesdays for class discussions that put each week’s materials in context and provide forums for questions and review.

Objectives:

• Students will learn to see the Holocaust in greater historical, religious, and cultural context.
• Students will gain an understanding of classical antisemitism and its implications.
• Students will consider the roles religion plays in situations of extremity, as well as the ethical choices people make in such situations.
• Students will examine material and visual culture objects relating to the Nazi period and understand them in context.
• Students will develop critical thinking skills in close reading, reflection, and response.

The course is divided into four parts.

• Introduction: We discuss the general background of the Holocaust as well as key questions and theories central to the course (week 1).
• Before the Nazi Era: We discuss the historical and religious issues and events that led up to the Holocaust (weeks 2-4).
• During the Nazi era: We discuss life under the Nazi regime and in the ghettos and camps, Jewish and Christian responses, ethics, resistance, and survival (weeks 5-11).
• After the Nazi era: We discuss liberation, survivor “guilt” and silence, life in the aftermath, Christian and Jewish theological responses, the moral legacy of the Holocaust, and contemporary remembrance issues and activities (weeks 12-15).

Texts:

Required Books:

Additional Required Readings:

• New Testament Gospel excerpts. PDF posted on Blackboard.

• Steven Katz, typology of religious responses to the Holocaust. PDF posted on Blackboard.

• Selection of online readings/links. DOC posted on Blackboard.

Assignments and grading: All students will complete the following:

1. Seven quizzes (through FIU Online/Blackboard): the material covered in each quiz is indicated in the course schedule; each quiz is meant to be taken at the end of the week in which it appears; quizzes close on Sundays at 11:59 pm to allow sufficient time to learn the material and for multiple attempts. (Quiz #1 will be open an extra week to accommodate late registrations.) There will be no extensions on the quizzes. It is recommended you attempt the quiz for the first time soon after completing the week’s readings and lectures; if you are not satisfied with your grade, review the material and take it again over the weekend. You may attempt each quiz up to three times, but the questions will vary with each attempt. The lowest quiz grade will be discarded, leaving six quizzes remaining that apply to the final course grade; each remaining quiz is worth 4% of your final grade; totaling 24% of your final course grade. Respondus Lockdown Browser is required for the quizzes.

2. A take-home essay exam of about 1000 words, to be submitted to turnitin.com via Blackboard (no separate turnitin registration required), concludes Part II of the course and is due by 11:59pm on Feb. 4. It is worth 10% of your final course grade. Additional instructions will be provided.
3. A comparative essay assignment of about 1500 words, to be submitted to turnitin.com via Blackboard (no separate turnitin registration required), concludes Part III of the course and is due by 11:59pm on April 1. It is worth 15% of your final course grade. Additional instructions will be provided.

4. Visual Culture Blog: The course includes two required special recorded lectures dealing with Visual Culture and the Holocaust (plus a third optional recorded lecture): students will view these lectures and then post to the Visual Culture Blog at least three times over the course of the semester, as indicated in the course calendar; students must also reply at least twice to your student colleagues' blog posts, all by the indicated deadlines. The entire Visual Culture Blog is worth 15% of your final course grade and will be graded according to the Blog Rubric. There will be no extensions on the Visual Culture Blog final deadline, and failure to post by the interim deadlines will result in reduced scores on the rubric.

5. A Final Examination during the scheduled Final Exam time block (probably April 24, but check my.fiu) consisting of a series of paragraph-long term identifications, based on a pre-distributed study guide. The Final Exam is worth 21% of your final course grade. Additional instructions will be provided.

6. Class attendance and participation: 12% of your final course grade.

7. Evidence of attendance in at least one outside Holocaust-related lecture, film, or event: a schedule of FIU’s 2nd annual Holocaust & Genocide Awareness Week and other available events will be provided: due by 11:59pm April 17; 3% of your final course grade (with opportunities to add up to 3% more in extra credit points—see below).

Grading Criteria:

All student work will be assigned numerical grades, corresponding to the following letter grades, according to the criteria below. Final grades will be calculated according to the percentages outlined above and converted to final letter grades for the course.

- 93-100 A “As” are awarded for excellent to exceptional work, free of technical and stylistic errors, showing sustained thought and engagement with the material on an appropriate but impressive academic level.
- 90-92 A-
- 88-89 B+ “Bs” are awarded for good to very good work, with some occasional errors, but nonetheless clearly indicating a good grasp of the material and assigned task.
- 83-87 B
- 80-82 B-
- 77-79 C+ “Cs” are awarded for average to above average work, meeting minimal standards but marked with errors, and exposing gaps in student performance and/or fulfillment of the assignment.
- 70-76 C
- 60-69 D “Ds” are awarded for barely passing to below average work, usually riddled with errors and seriously deficient in fulfilling the assignment.
- < 60 F “Fs” are awarded for unacceptable work.
Course Regulations and Expectations:

- READINGS must be completed and ONLINE LECTURES viewed during the week they are assigned, preferably prior to class discussions. Careful preparation of readings and attention to lectures are essential for comprehension, participation, and overall performance!

- POLICIES ON DUE DATES:
  - Online quizzes are designed to be attempted on each Friday of the week indicated in the class schedule but remain open through the weekend to accommodate students who may have missed material during the preceding week; all quizzes close at 11:59 pm on Sundays unless otherwise noted and will not be re-opened for any reason; quizzes can always be attempted early if the student will not have Internet access over the weekend the quiz is due. Students not completing quizzes by closing time will receive a zero for that quiz. Reminder: The lowest quiz score out of the seven required will be dropped from the final grade calculation.
  - The Visual Culture Blog is a cumulative assignment in three parts: failure to meet its interim deadlines will result in lower rubric scores, and the final closing date of April 15 will not be extended for any reason.
  - The Take-Home Essay Exam and the Comparative Essay Assignment will remain open past the due date but will be penalized one half letter grade (five points) for each day late, or part thereof, up to a maximum 25 point deduction. Students failing to submit either assignment by the last class meeting on April 17 will receive a grade of 0 for that assignment.

- PLAGIARISM and any and all forms of academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Plagiarism is stealing someone else’s words or original ideas. Plagiarism occurs in two forms: (1) uncredited quotations (including words copied from elsewhere but not bracketed by quotation marks and quotations without proper citations and documentation) and (2) uncredited paraphrases. In both cases, to avoid plagiarism, students must properly cite the source material. Only commonly known facts and concepts, general material learned in the course of research and study, and students’ original ideas do not require citation. Students found violating standards will fail the course and will be reported directly to the Office of Academic Affairs. For useful guidelines, go to the Plagiarism Prevention section on the FIU Library’s website: http://libguides.fiu.edu/plagiarism.

- ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY in weekly class meetings are required and expected. Tardiness is disruptive and will be noted, and repeated tardiness will negatively impact the student’s attendance grade; the professor reserves the right to refuse entry to students arriving late. The CLASS PARTICIPATION grade will be scored as follows (the professor reserves the right to modify the score based on his assessment of class participation):

FIU’s CENTER FOR EXCELLENCE IN WRITING offers free services. Take advantage of them! See http://writingcenter.fiu.edu/

EXTRA CREDIT is always available for the diligent student. You may either write a 2-3 page essay about the outside event you attended to meet the requirement outlined above, or you may attend and write about a different event; either must be pre-approved. Further guidelines will be provided. Extra credit essays are due no later than April 19. No exceptions to this deadline will be permitted.
