

Faith in Social Justice

Spring 2019

“Without justice and love, peace will always be a great illusion.”

– Dom Helder Camara

What role does religion play in social justice? How do different religious traditions understand current ethical controversies that call for justice? How can you make a difference?

This hands-on course will explore concepts of social justice within faith traditions, exploring liberation theology, justice ministry, and faith in action. Students will have the opportunity to meet both local and national social justice leaders and work on a project of their own choosing, either on campus or with a local organization.

Who should take this course? Future Lawyers, Social Workers
Psychologists • Majors in Criminal Justice, INR, LACC, Political Science, Religious Studies, Liberal Studies, History, GSS & More • People who want to take action in our community

Jeanette Smith | jesmith@fiu.edu | Wed, 5-740 PM | REL 4063 | Sec U01 | Ref 18293