Course Prerequisites

Course prerequisites, if any, are listed below.

Course Description

Religion is not a museum piece but a vibrant force in the lives of many people around the world today. Studies in World Religions is a sympathetic approach to what is living and significant in the world's major religious traditions and in various new movements that are arising. This course provides a clear and straightforward account of the development, doctrines, and practices of the major faiths followed today. The emphasis throughout is on the personal consciousness of believers and their own accounts of their religion and its relevance in contemporary life.

Why should you care about religion?

Why do people believe what they believe? How have religious ideas shaped cultures, laws, and everyday life across the world? In this class, you'll explore fascinating questions about the origins of religious traditions, the meaning of rituals and sacred texts, and how faith influences identity, ethics, and society. What do different religions say about life, suffering, and what happens after death? Why do similar themes appear in traditions separated by thousands of miles? Through discussion, stories, and global perspectives, this course invites you to investigate religion not just as belief, but as a powerful force that continues to shape human history and modern life. Whether you're curious, skeptical, or searching for deeper understanding, this course will challenge you to think in new ways about one of humanity's most enduring questions: what does it mean to believe?

These are not just entertaining questions, but are highly relevant to your personal and professional development in our globalized world. In this interdisciplinary course, we will explore these questions and many more that emerge as we investigate humanity, religion, and the cosmos.

How can this course help you advance in your career?

You do not need to be personally religious, majoring in religious studies, or in a field within humanities to benefit from this course. Whatever your academic field is, this course will train you to make important connections between your career and the world of the sacred and the profane. You will be able to explore the variety of religious expressions and frameworks that shape societies around the world, and the role religion plays in local and international affairs.

Religious literacy will greatly impact our ability to understand personal and social motivations behind financial decisions, political engagement, science and technological advancement, environmental and migration policies, family planning, diet and food production, gender relations, war and terrorist attacks, and more. Whether you notice or not, religion is a universal phenomenon that continues to transform and be transformed by our societies.

Our approach is interdisciplinary, which means you will be critically reflecting from many fields of study such as philosophy, psychology, cultural studies, history, economics, gender studies, among others. This enhances your ability to think critically, communicate effectively, respond sensitively, collaborate with others and creatively resolve conflict.

UCC Category Description

This course satisfies the University Core Curriculum Social Sciences, Group 2 requirement.

Social science courses afford students an understanding of the basic social and behavioral science concepts and principles used in the analysis of behavior and past and present social, political, and economic issues.

Student Learning Outcomes/Objectives

- Course Goals At the end of this course, students will able to: Compare and contrast religious societies and cultures in the local, national and/or international context. Examine these societies and cultures within contemporary and historical perspective. Discuss the issue of religious diversity in national and/or international context. Analyze topics in the field of religious studies from multiple perspectives. Evaluate how global issues and trends are interrelated with the development and practice of religions. Demonstrate creative thinking about religious issues in the contemporary world.
- Student learning outcomes allow faculty to assess the level of proficiency in content knowledge and skills that their students acquire in a course. If the objective meets a special designation, you will see the code after the objective: University Core Curriculum: UCC Gordon Rule Writing: GRW Global Learning: GL Civic Literacy: CL See Course Goals

Expectations of this Course

This is an online course, which means most (if not all) of the course work will be conducted online. Expectations for performance in an online course are the same for a traditional course. In fact, online courses require a degree of self-motivation, self-discipline, and technology skills which can make these courses more demanding for some students.

In addition to the completion of writing assignments and exams, the primary requirement for successful completion of this course will be an open mind. Students are expected to exhibit respect to all religious traditions and peoples at all times. Thus, disrespectful or derisive commentary will not be tolerated in this course. Religion is, after all, a very personal and sensitive subject for many.

On the other hand, class participants can expect academic freedom to express their views. Although religion can be personal, this is an academic course taken for college credit and thus students are expected to examine the topics rigorously. Religion shall not be exempt from the scrutiny placed on any and all academic subjects.

Students are expected to:

- review the getting started page located in the course modules;

- introduce yourself to the class during the first week by posting a self-introduction in the appropriate discussion;
- take the practice quiz to ensure that your computer is compatible with the learning management system, Canvas;
- interact online with instructor and peers;
- review and follow the course calendar and weekly outlines;
- log in to the course at least 5 times per week;
- respond to discussions by the due date specified. No late work will be accepted;
- respond to emails/messages within 3 days or sooner;
- submit assignments by the corresponding deadline

The instructor will:

- log in to the course 4 times per week;
- respond to discussion postings within 2 days of the deadline;
- respond to emails/messages within 48 hours;
- grade assignments within 2 weeks of the assignment deadline.

Policies & Resources

Please review the FIU's Policies webpage. The policies webpage contains essential information regarding guidelines relevant to all courses at FIU, as well as additional information about acceptable netiquette for online courses. For additional information, please visit FIU's Policy and Procedure Library.

As a member of the FIU community, you are expected to be knowledgeable about the behavioral expectations set forth in the FIU Student Conduct and Honor Code.

Assignments & Assessments

Assessments

In order to mitigate any issues with your computer and online assessments, it is very important that you take the "Practice Quiz" from each computer you will be using to take your graded quizzes and exams. It is your responsibility to make sure your computer meets the minimum hardware requirements.

All assessments will auto-submit when (1) the timer runs out OR (2) the closing date/time is reached, whichever happens first. For example, if a quiz has a closing time of 5:00 pm but the student begins the exam at 4:55 pm, the student will only have 5 minutes to complete the quiz.

Assessments in this course are not compatible with mobile devices and should not be taken through a mobile phone or a tablet. If you encounter any technical difficulties, please contact the FIU Canvas Help Team. Please ensure you contact support immediately upon the issue occurring.

Assignments

Discussion Board Assignments (10% of overall grade)

There will be five (5) discussions in this course. These discussions are meant to stimulate critical thinking about how religions manifest in our globalized world.

Discussion topics will become available Monday, 12:00PM to Sunday, 11:59PM of each week that a discussion topic is posted. See the course calendar for the weeks that have discussion topics posted.

To receive full credit for the discussion assignments, students must post a minimum of 3 discussion threads per discussion topic:

- One post in response to the main discussion topic
- Two responses to other students' posts

Please refer to the rubric attached to each discussion for details on what criteria your assignments will be evaluated on. Canvas Tutorial: How do I view the rubric for my graded discussion?

Keep in mind that this is an academic forum; all students in the course will see the discussion posts. When criticizing or agreeing with another student's position on a given topic, please make sure to include supporting facts and specific examples to strengthen your position. Contribute links to articles, news stories, and/or other media whenever possible.

Citation Style for Discussions: Provide in-text citations for this assignment when referencing any source, including external sources and the course content in the modules (e.g., lecture videos, documentaries, articles, and the textbook). Use Chicago style. or MLA style for references. *You must cite page numbers on articles and books in your in-text citations.

Quizzes (10% of overall grade)

Each module in this course will have a quiz administered through InQuizitive. You must answer at least 20 questions to get credit for each chapter quiz. These are not time restricted and can be completed throughout the availability of each quiz. See course schedule for availability dates.

The Jainism and Shinto modules will have quizzes via Canvas as these do not have corresponding chapters in the Religion Matters textbook. These two quizzes will be time-restricted, multiple-choice quizzes. The questions for these two quizzes will draw specifically from the assigned readings in these modules.

Quiz Availability: Open from Monday, 12:00 AM to Sunday, 11:59 PM (see Course Calendar for specific dates)

Quizzes will be graded automatically. Students will be able to see their scores immediately after submitting the quiz.

The correct answers for quizzes will not be released to students. Students will be able to see submitted answers only. Students should refer to their course materials for the correct answers.

Assessments in this course are not compatible with mobile devices and should not be attempted through a mobile phone or a tablet. If you need further assistance please contact FIU Online Support Services.

In order to mitigate any issues with your computer and internet connection, it is very important that the "Practice Quiz" be attempted prior to beginning the quizzes or exams. It is your responsibility to make sure your computer meets the minimum hardware requirements.

Perusall Assignments (10% of overall grade)

Students will read and/or watch selected videos through Perusall inside

Canvas where they will be awarded points for leaving high quality thoughtful comments on each reading or video. This both ensures students are reviewing and engaging critically with the weekly instructional materials. Students will be able to see other students' interactions in Perusall.

Students earn full credit by submitting 4 high-quality comments.

If all comments are bunched together in a small area of the content, deduct up to 10% of this component.

High quality comments are those that do the following:

-reveal interpretation of the text

- demonstrate understanding of concepts through analogy and/or synthesis of multiple concepts

-thoughtful explanations with substantiated claims and/or concrete examples

-poses profound questions that go beyond the material covered in the text

-explains the relationship between concepts

Here is a good guide for Writing good comments in the social sciences – Perusall : Writing good comments in the social sciences – Perusall

Exams (50% of overall grade)

The Midterm Exam (25% of overall grade) and Final Exam (25% of overall grade) consist of both objective and essay portions.

The Midterm Exam will cover: Modules 1- 7 (see course schedule for details)

The Final Exam will cover: Modules 8-14 (see course schedule for details)

The objective portions are online, time-restricted examinations. Students will have only one attempt to complete the objective portions of the Midterm and Final Exams. Please make note of this important difference. The objective portion of exams will be graded automatically. Students will be able to see their scores immediately after submitting the exam. Honorlock will be used to proctor the objective portion of each exam to ensure academic integrity of these assessments.

The essay prompts for the exams will become available during the exam availability period. The essay portions of these exams must be submitted via Canvas and will be checked for plagiarism using Turnitin. The essay portion of the exams should be approximately 500-750 words long. Please refer to the rubric within the assignment page for details on what criteria your exam essays will be evaluated on.

Citation Style for Midterm/Final Essays: Provide in-text citations for this assignment when referencing the course content in the modules (e.g., lecture videos, documentaries, articles, and the textbook). Use Chicago or MLA style for references. *You must cite page numbers on articles and books in your in-text citations.

Term Paper (20% of overall grade)

Important Information

The term paper will be automatically checked for plagiarism using Turnitin via Canvas. It is not necessary to create an account on Turnitin.com to submit this assignment.

Students may not submit work from a previous semester or from another class for this assignment or any other assignment in this course. It will be flagged for plagiarism by Turnitin.

Keep electronic and paper copies of all written work. For your own protection, keep a copy of your Turnitin electronic receipt (confirmation of assignment submission) until you have received your final grade for the course.

Instructions for Students

Length: 1200-1500 words, in addition to a bibliography/works cited page

Formatting: Double-spaced, 12-pt font size, Arial or Times New Roman Font

Citation Style: Provide in-text citations for this assignment when referencing any source, including external sources and the course content in the modules (e.g., lecture videos, documentaries, articles, and the textbook). Use Chicago style. or MLA style for references. *You must cite page numbers on articles and books in your in-text citations.

Bibliography: a minimum of 3 academic sources; preferably peer-reviewed publications and books. One of these must be a book reference. These academic sources are in addition to your textbook/weekly readings/lectures. Do not use Wikipedia as an Internet source.

The textbook and required readings will not have enough information about any of the topic questions above to formulate substantial responses. To succeed in this assignment, set aside sufficient time to research the chosen topic thoroughly.

Term paper prompts and instructions will become available to students during the early weeks of the course.

Grading Criteria

- Please refer to the rubric within the assignment page for details on what criteria your Term Paper will be evaluated on.
- Pay special attention to the following items:

- The information in your paper. Is it correct? Is it detailed? Do you demonstrate basic knowledge of the religious tradition from which the concept is taken? Is this knowledge evident in your description? You must use at least three academic sources in your paper. One of them must be a book reference.

1. How your information is presented. This includes the way the it is organized and language skills such as spelling, grammar, and proper sentence structure.
2. The quality of your analysis, how well you support the main argument of your paper.

Research Resources

The following resources can assist with your research for this assignment:

- ATLA Religion Database
- JSTOR
- Web Site evaluation video (4 minutes)
- Web site evaluation guidelines from Berkeley
